

Amy Langhorn

Business Development Manager,
Seniors for Seniors division of Spectrum Healthcare.

Education and supporting the needs of seniors in the community is a key focus and passion of Amy's. Her passions matched with her many years of being an Insurance professional has allowed her to build many great relationships with families in London and the surrounding area.

The relationships and support that she's provided to families has given her unique and valuable insights about the needs of individuals as they age. The connection and establishment of insurance solutions, financial planning services as well as home care support are critically important elements that allow families and individuals to be prepared for life's unexpected events. Every person has unique lifestyle needs, wants and desires and more often the ability to age in place at home is a growing trend. Working with community resources and establishing referral networks, is a strength of Amy's and her work with Seniors for Seniors allows her to provide solutions to seniors and families for many of their home care needs. Amy is an engaging speaker and enjoys sharing her knowledge about many of the community and home care support options that are available to seniors and many other professional and senior targeted focus groups.
